

Archives Report

I visited the archives room at the Baton Rouge AIS in February and found that the space has been encroached upon because of a leak in the AIS office in a adjacent room. Everything had been consolidated and there was little room to work.

I took photographs and I intended to come back in March and monthly thereafter to check progress on the repair of the leak in the other room so that we could have full use of our room. And then Covid came and I have not been back to the archives office sense.

I will schedule a visit in September and one in October and another one in early November to get a better handle on what we have in the archives and what needs to be done with it.
